

Title: Four Seasons. 2015

Location: St Kateri Chapel, St. Josephs College, University of Alberta

Size: Eight glass panels, 20 inches by 20 inches each

Description: The chapel is located in the new women's residence of St. Josephs College on the University of Alberta campus. It is a beautiful, intimate space designed for quiet reflection and the welcoming of all faiths and walks of life.

The concept embodies the colours and textures of the seasons, and the circles reference the spiritual nature of the setting. Multiple layers of vitrified stains and enamels were applied to plate glass, fired in the kiln and etching is used to delineate the circles and some textures.

